INTERNATIONAL WEDDING AT ST. THOMAS' TODAY.

Miss Hanna Becomes the Wife of British Officer-Other Events. Personal Notes.

Miss Maud Vera Hanna and Capt. Horace Fairfax Morseby Browne of the British army were married today at noon at St. Thomas' Church in the presence of their intimate friends, who preceded them to that edifice, around the doors of which lingered a gathering of the curious, somewhat larger than usually shares in watching the happiness of persons entirely strangers to it. The automobile accident of Monday afternoon, in which the young couple fortunately escaped serious injury, naturally contributed to the local interest in their welfare, but the bride-elect's plucky remark immediately after the spill out in Rock Creek Park that the wedding ceremony would not be put off, in consequence of it, left no doubt in the minds of her friends that all would go happily today. The only untoward feature was the inability of her friend and chaperon, Mrs. Bela H. Jacobs, to be present to give her away at the altar, but while her condition is progressing satisfactorily, she is still con-fined to her bed in the Georgetown Uni-versity Hospital, where the happy couple visited her yesterday and will in all probability go again late today. Capt. Browne and his bride went up the church alse together to the chancel, where Rev. C. Ernest Smith, D.D., performed the service. Flowers and palms adorned the recesses of the chancel and bloomed on the alter. the chancel and bloomed on the altar.

The bride's dress was one of the prettiest seen this June. It was of soft white satin. very richly ornamented with point lace, and with it was worn a white lace hat trimmed with long white plumes. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and sweet peas. Capt. Browne showed many traces of the accident with the cuts and bruises on his face and his arm bandaged. The bride showed no signs at all of her experiences, but was as smiling, pretty and as animated as possible. The couple will not leave town until Mrs. Jacobs is perfectly restored to health. Then they will make an extended tour of this country before going to England to pass the winter, en route for India, where the regiment of Capt. Browne is stationed.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon, at Mt. Pleasant Congregational Church, Miss Marion Speaks, daughter of Mrs. Mary J. Speaks, will be married to Mr. James Edward West. Mr. Charles E. Speaks, brother of and useful one, and in spite of his years he is bright eyed, clear of voice and otherwise hale and hearty. He retired from the pulpit thirteen years ago, and since the pulpit thirteen years ago, and si then he has devoted his time to writing and lecturing. He has traveled in nearly every foreign country, lecturing and preaching, and takes much price in the race of a man over sixty-five years old crossing the ocean fourteen times.

Dr. Baker will be assisted in his anniversary celebration by his wife, who be-fore her marriage to him ten years ago was nead of the Junior Sunday School So-ciety of Brooklyn, N. Y., for thirty-five years. Dr. Baker's sister, Mrs. Laura E. Lyman, who is a few years his junior, has come on from her home in New York to be present. Dr. Baker was born in New Hampshire. His.father, Charles Baker, was a minister and a member of the New England Methodist conference. Dr. Baker was graduated from Wesleyan College in 1855, and after teaching in New England and in Santa Clara, Cal., for several years ne entered upon regular itinerate work as a m'nister.

Eighteen years ago he became the pastor of Wilson Memorial Church in this city, and was connected with this church when he retired.

The following have been invited to attend the anniversary tonight: Drs. Bristol, France, Gallagher, Thirkield, Moore, Sumwalt, Greene, Huntly, Nailor, Doney, Murray, Bielaski, King, Bacon, Gilbert, Chapman, Rayburn, Brown, McKee, and Judges Atkinson, Court of Claims; Ander-

A pleasant surprise party was given at the home of Miss Marguerite Criste, 506 Virginia avenue southeast, by her mother in honor of her graduation. The Phi Alpha Epsilon Fraternity of the Eastern High School ended one of its most successful years by giving an excursion down the river last Friday, June 14. The steamer Bartholdi was chartered for the occasion and the party left Washington about 1:30 in the afternoon. After a delicious and well-prepared dinner ice cream and cake was served on the boat. While cruising down below Indian Head they landed at Gunston and took a walk along the shore of old Virginia. The party also landed at Marshall Hall about 7 o'clock and danced until nearly 10 o'clock. On the homeward journey there was much delightful music. They arrived in Washington late that evening after a trip which was one of the most pleasant and successful ever taken by a high school crowd. In the party were Ward Arney and Jean Winter, Andrew Brown and Eva Alger, Ralph Brown and Elsie Weaver, Bennett Clark and Flor-ence Taylor, Ingle Farmer and Myrtle King, John Field and Mae DeShields, Jackson Mc-Coy and Phoebe Moffett, Bruce Handy and Isabel Collins, Walter McFarland and Josephine McCoy, Donald McGiffin and Hazel Walker, Horace Johnston and Josephine Tomlin, Taylor Papson and Gladys Winter Donald Robinette and Grace Turner, Richard Sanderson and Edith Orello; Russell Chompson and Alma Gostin, Randolph Ti tus and May Wells, William Miller tus and May Wells, William Miller and Florence Yoder, Emrich Simmons and Mazie Orbello, William Bradley, Earl Phelps and Melville Tewksbury.

The graduating class of Central High School gave a delightful dance at Rausch-er's last night. About 250 young people enjoyed the occasion. The dance was rated a great success, because of the large number of seniors and graduates who attended. The other high schools were also very well rep-

The unusual occurrence of three birth-day anniversaries in one family coming in the same month, each being four days apart, was the occasion last night of a trijuvenile birthday party to the three younger children of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries, at their home, 1227 O street northwest, the little hostess and hosts being Miss Margaret Virginia Humphries, aged ten years; Master Tucker Graves Humphries, aged seven years, and Edwin V. Humphries, aged two years. Their birthdays occur on June 14, 18 and 22.

The little hostess received her guests in The little hostess received her guests in the parlor. An hour before dusk the lit-tle ones, accompaned by Miss Imogen Rey.

nolds Humphries, Miss Katherine Watts Humphries and Miss Marie Edmonds, went to Iowa Circle, one block away, where they spent an hour playing outdoor games in the park. Returning to the house re-feshments were served in the dining room, with the birthday cake adorning the center of the table, illuminated with ten colored wax tapers. Following the serving of refreshments games were played in the parlor and library. One game, with a prize, was won by Miss Thelma Towles. Old field daisies were used as decorations for the table.

The invited guests were: Miss Imogen Taylor, Miss Marion Letcher, Miss Thelma Towles, Miss Elizabeth Woodward, Miss Gertrude Lawrence, Miss Emily Letcher, Miss Gertrude Clarke, Miss Helen Clarke Miss Agnes Clarke, Miss Helen Burch Miss Frances Thompson, Miss Julia Hamp-ton, Miss Evelyn Kissinger, Miss Cynthia Justia and Masters Will Burch, Benjamin Goodman, Lloyd Watts, Harold Justia and Hayes Jack. St. Aloysius' Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding this morning when Miss Mary C. Cavanagh, daughter of Mrs. Anne Cavanagh and the late Michael Cavanagh the noted Irish poet, wit and historian, and Mr. Walter Asmuth, formerly of Mil-waukee, but for the past several years a resident of this city, were married. The bride wore a handsome gown of ivory chiffon poplin, made with a deep bertha of rare old Carrickmacross point applique, a gift of New York relatives, and a lace hat trimmed in finy rosebuds and two long drooping plumes. She carried an ivory prayer book, from which the marriage pastor of Our Lady of Mercy Church, Brooklyn, a cousin of the bride, who performed the ceremony, was celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Father Noonan, Father Ignatius Fealy and the Rev. Mr. P. J. Downing were assistants, and a program of beautiful music was rendered by Miss Katherine Lackaye.

THOMAS. In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, COLUMBUS THOMAS, who departed this life one year ago today, June 19, 1906. God has taken a kind husband and father away from us. How true it is that God's ways are not our ways, nor His thoughts as our thoughts. We can only pray that the God of all comfort will bless and help these stricken hearts in this time of sore distress.

Gone, but never will be forgotten BY HIS LOVING WIFE AND CHILDREN.
